Amanda

When I send you emails I don't mean to come across as a dick or want to hurt you. Just concerned because I actually care deeply what happens to you. My friend Kenneth Jones just lost his sister to weight problems from being under weight. Her body finally shut down from being way underweight and she couldn't handle it anymore as her body was feeding off itself. I also lost my neighbor I grew up with in NJ recently with after years of her battling her weight problem. She had a cardiac arrest. So when I saw your pics on Aspen's FB because I monitor her page. Before you deleted her in a childish manner I was able to see how you were doing. I became concerned because I saw how you looked and you did not look healthy by any means. I think you need help and if something were to happen to you and I didn't at least try would be hard for me to suck up. Sorry for caring so much. Besides that how are you doing otherwise. I try to communicate with you but you are not at all interested. I have my days where they are up and down. Being sober has been a very positive change for me and I didn't realize how many people I was hurting. Some may forgive me and some may not. I've apologized to you several times before and only wish you could find it in your heart to forgive me. It wasn't who I was. I am a much better person and in a better place. Every day is a new challenge for me and every day I go sober is a great accomplishment. There has been a few times where things weren't going right and I wanted to find some drugs. I resisted the temptation and it's had it's up and downs. Being sober has only brought positive things to my life. I am able to put 100% into my business and great things are going to come from it now I am able to put 100% into it because I am past the hump of staying sober. I wish you could find it in your heart to actually talk to me one day again. I treated you very well and took care of you the best I could. Don't know how you can't see this and no man will ever care for you as much as I did. I always put you before me first and maybe I shouldn't have done that because maybe I spoiled you and pretty much gave you whatever you wanted. Wish you had treated me the same way. Sorry to ramble on but I have so much unfinished business with you and never got closure from you. After several years gone by it still bothers me to this day. Maybe till the rest of my life if you never decide to talk to me. I can't comprehend for the life of me why you shut me out. I was always faithful to you which is a rare trait these days. Do you actually hate me more than anything after all the things I've done for you. It's very rare a man would take care of a women did to you in this day in age. It's who I am. Old fashioned and I believe the man has to take care of the woman. You really didn't actually have to work and that's how it should be in my world. Only to have something to every day. I wish you weren't so stubborn and actually communicate with me. I took very good care of you chances are no man has been able to fill my shoes. It's hard for me to move on in my relationship when I s have strong feelings for you. Faith is a great girl but something is missing or my feelings are holding me back. If you have no feelings for me whatsoever than you could possibly help me move on by telling me so. I think I think I deserve this at the very least for everything I've done. I don't think it's too much to ask for. I would do the same for you. There really has been only 2 women I have ever really truly loved. My ex Maryanne who is a very good friend of mine. Like a sister to me. Then there is you of course where I would do anything within reason for you. I am probably the only ex that would always be there for you. I ask one favor if you could let me know you got my email message at least. Just a received your message so I am not wondering and another thing to help me get you out of my mind if you are not interested in talking to me. You could always come to me for advice and I would help the best I could. Have to go for now and I look forward to your response. A part of my life is missing.

Only good intentions

Numeric Racings Porsche GT3 Cup car that I do track days with. My third time out in the car. Learning and trying to get my lap times down. I'd like to get a very experienced driver to ride along to show me some tips to drop my lap times. Seems like I am not carrying enough speed coming into and carrying through certain corners. Also how to pick better lines. Pro drivers can do around 2:17s in this car setup. Need a few updates to my model Cup car. I of course have the Numeric Racing Shifter and Cables installed in this car. <http://www.numericracing.com> or contact dan@numericracing.com for any questions or tech help.

The Lumber Liquidators Morning Star Brand strand Bamboo flooring is garbage. Don't waste your money. Lumber liquidators has a class action lawsuit against them for Morning Star Strand Bambo flooring. L The invoice clearly states a 30 year warra only a few months my floor started to warp. They said their is nothing wrong with their product which is completely untrue there wouldn't be a class action suit. They also said that the expansion cracks were not a 1/2 wide. In order to check this the would have to pull the corner round off which he never did. So they flat out lied to me and provided not one single photo of The inspector also left out pictures of the floor separating from the planks in the report that I clearly pointed out. They are a company and are only trying to cover their hides because if the inspector writes negative reports. Then it will cost them thou dollars. I will be hiring my own inspector to get an accurate report. STAY AWAY FROM THEIR PRODUCT. IT IS CHINESE GARBAGE AND WILL NOT LAST 30 YEARS LET ALONE A FEW MONTHS. My installer has been doing this for over said he never seen a floor do this in all his years of installing. I spoke with the reps at the store as well as my installer to find how to install this floor properly. The planks were stored in my house just how they told me to for well over a month. It was installed with their recommended brand glue. I have invested well over 15 grand to now have to replace the entire floor. My floor was down for 10 years and was completely flat and wasn't warped. I wanted to upgrade but made a huge mistake by ch brand floor. Lawsuit information can be googled at MSStrandBamboo lawsuit. Don't make the same mistake that many other buying this brand flooring. They certainly do not stand behind their 30 year written warranty.
